Your congregation has the heart. Give them the tools.

Using conversations surrounding cancer as the training ground, this three-hour, interactive workshop gives you and your congregation both the mindset and the tools to navigate the difficult conversations that are inevitable in community.

Experience, not just talk. You'll learn the foundation, then process and practice through structured and unstructured small- and full-group conversations. Some of it is fun. Some of it is serious. Some of it is uncomfortable, but you won't stay there.

"I haven't had many constructive conversations like this so it was refreshing to have a space like this. Thank you for creating this."
-Rachel Daniels

An investment in your community of care:

- Fosters a Culture of Congregational Care: Empowers every member with increased confidence and skills to provide meaningful, effective support.
- Creates a Genuinely Supportive Community: Reduces hurtful platitudes, awkward silences, and ghosting, creating a safer space for members to navigate life's most difficult seasons.
- Lightens the Pastoral Care Load: Shares the ministry of care among many hands.
- Complimentary to Stephen Ministries: Participants previously trained in Stephen Ministries described the workshop as "a great addition," and "very appropriate and beneficial."
